There’s no such thing as business as usual at Fisher College of Business. We’ve created a world-class experience that enables faculty to inspire new ideas, both within the classroom and across their field of study. We’ve built enduring and innovative partnerships that impact the practice of business. Taken together, the Fisher experience helps students Go Beyond and be uniquely prepared for what’s ahead – which is why they’re some of the most sought-after graduates in the country.
Why just study business when you can experience it? Our rigorous, action-based curriculum prepares students to discover passions and launch careers. Through leadership development and a commitment to community, students Go Beyond to make an immediate impact – all over the world. Not surprisingly, recruiters name Fisher undergrads as the second most sought-after graduates in the country.
