Attendance: Class discussion and participation will be an important part of this class and cannot occur without attendance. Attendance will affect your participation grade. If you know you will be absent and believe your absence qualifies as an excused absence (determinations will be made by me on a case by case basis), you must notify me by email (see below) prior to the class you will miss.

Communication: The best way to reach me is by email. Please use both email addresses set forth above when emailing me. If you would like to notify me regarding an absence it should be by email. Unfortunately, I cannot guarantee that I will remember everything I am told before or after class, so that is why I require an email. Your email should contain both the course number and time of class in the subject line.

Electronic devices: The absence of unnecessary distractions and interruptions being essential for an effective learning environment, each and every student must adhere to the following rules regarding electronic devices in the classroom. Your receipt and acceptance of this syllabus shall constitute acceptance of these rules.

Electronic devices include cell phones (including smart phones), computers (laptops, notebooks, net books, and handhelds), mp3 and other digital audio and video players (including DVD players), and analog and digital audio and video recording devices (still and movie cameras). Electronic devices may be used in the classroom for class purposes, such as the taking of notes. Volume on any electronic device must be turned off during class time. No electronic device may be used to record any audio or video of the class without the express permission of the instructor in each instance. Use of cell/smart phones to make or receive calls during the class is prohibited.

A student violating the above rules on the use of electronic devices in the classroom shall be subject to dismissal from the class for the day on which the offense occurs and a deduction of participation points.

Homework: Homework assignments will be posted in this Syllabus, or on Canvas. Reading the assigned chapters of the text, as shown on this syllabus for each class, are the primary homework assignment to be done in advance of the class, in addition to any other homework that may be assigned. There will be one writing assignment near the middle of the schedule. Details of that assignment will be provided on Canvas as we get further into the semester. You should be prepared to discuss homework questions in class. We may not have time to discuss all questions.

Exams: Failure to show up for a scheduled exam may result in a grade of zero for that exam. If you are absent and it is an unexcused absence you may receive a zero on the exam.

Canvas: Information regarding class may be posted as news items on Canvas. You are responsible for signing up on Canvas for notifications. You may not claim lack of knowledge of information posted on Canvas or sent through a Canvas email as an excuse for failure to comply with a class requirement.

If you believe that a score posted on Canvas is not accurate you must notify me by email within seven (7) days of the date that it was posted. If you fail to notify me within the seven (7) day period you agree that the score posted is accurate and give up all rights to contest the score.

Preparation for Class: The University and College expectation is that students spend two hours outside of class for every hour spent in class. Since this course meets approximately 3 hours per week, you should expect to spend about 6 hours per week outside of class on course-related work.

Office hours: by appointment. When contacting me by email please put the course number and class time in the subject line.

Waitlisted students: Students who are waitlisted and seek to enroll must attend the first class. After the second week of class students who have not been added will not be enrolled and may not continue to attend the class. Waitlisted students should contact either the Fisher Undergraduate Program Office or the Department of Finance office if they have any questions regarding the waitlist process.

Disenrollment: University Rule 3335-8-33 provides that a student may be dis-enrolled at certain times, including after the student's second class session of the course, if the student fails to attend the scheduled course without giving prior notification to the instructor.

Academic misconduct: Academic misconduct will not be tolerated. According to University Rule 3335-31-02, all suspected cases of academic misconduct will be reported to the Committee on Academic Misconduct.

Disability services: The Office of Disability Services verifies students with specific disabilities and develops strategies to meet the needs of those students. Students requiring accommodations based on identified disabilities should contact the instructor at the beginning of the semester to discuss his or her individual needs. All students with a specific disability are encouraged to contact the Office of Disability Services to explore the potential accommodations available to them. Please contact the Office for Disability Services at 614-292-3307 in 098 Baker Hall to coordinate reasonable accommodations if you have a documented disability or would like additional information.
