THE INTERNSHIP ADVANTAGE

“Fisher College of Business taught me the simple skills I needed and provided me with the tools to perform the tasks required of me during my internship. I felt as though I had an advantage because of the information I learned from getting QUIC certified, my class material, and the everyday environment that I am surrounded by at Fisher. Thanks to Fisher, I am prepared for my future.”
Jillian Katzakis, Huntington

“The most important thing I learned from my internship was the importance of cultivating and maintaining relationships with your co-workers. I definitely would not have been successful in completing my project without the help of my co-workers and managers.”
Martin Ellis, ArcelorMittal

“The most important thing that I learned from my internship was to not be afraid to voice my thoughts and ideas, no matter how minor I think they may be. As an intern you are a fresh pair of eyes and ears to your organization, and you may bring a different perspective. Companies value that.”
Rachel Mitcham, Marathon Petroleum Corporation

“The most important lesson I will take away from my internship is the power of networking and how important it is to leave a lasting impression. I’ve realized my relationships with my coworkers are not going to end just because I am going back to school. You never know where you will end up and when these relationships will be vital to your career.”
Claire Brugler, Smucker’s
